“Creatures Great and Small” Launch

The Launch of Julie Noble’s Art Exhibition, “Creatures Great and Small” on Saturday 11 April, the first in this season of STARS Exhibitions, was attended by a large enthusiastic crowd of all ages. The paintings were pastels of animals, children and birds, beautifully presented and well received by the audience.

Julie Noble in centre and Camille Maple on right

Camille Maple introduced Glenda Parker, of the Adelaide Pastel Association, who opened the exhibition. She explained the fascination that pastel painting has for its exponents and how both she and Julie Noble came to be devotees of the medium. Wine and finger food were offered to guests and the evening was a great success.

Peter Elder in centre and Nancy Weisbrodt on right

The paintings that included children were particularly delicate and life-like and the general impression was that Julie has a rare talent in the use of pastel as a painting medium.

The exhibition will be open at Waverley House each Saturday except Anzac Day, from 11.00am to 3.00pm until 9 May.
